

HOW TO REGISTER A CONVERTED ELECTRIC VEHICLE

If you have a car and would like to reduce your carbon footprint in the world, you can begin by converting it to an electric vehicle and then correctly registering it with your state. This is an excellent way to enjoy the many benefits that owning an electric car can bring you without having to give up a car that you have already grown to enjoy

PROVING THAT YOU ARE THE OWNER

The first step in the process is to prove that you are the actual owner of the car. The title also needs to indicate the fuel type of the vehicle as it was delivered to the dealer from the factory.

SCHEDULE YOUR CONVERSION INSPECTION

The first step in the process is to prove that you are the actual owner of the car. This will be a detailed inspection where trained professionals are going to look to make sure the conversion was done properly. You will need to check with your state, but the application form for a conversion inspection should be located online.

PREPARING FOR THE CONVERSION INSPECTION

As soon as you know when your appointment is, you will want to gather up the documentation. Generally speaking, you will need to bring with you the following items:

- Photographs – You will want to take a number of pictures that show you completed the conversion process successfully.
- Application Form – You need to print out the completed application form and have it with you.
- Receipts – You will need to detail every cost associated with the conversion process, including all of the various components that you purchased.

WHAT HAPPENS AFTER THE INSPECTION?

When you have finally received your official electric vehicle conversion certificate, it is at that point that you can have your title changed. To do that, you will need to take the certificate and the original title from your vehicle down to your local registration office.

CHANGING THE TITLE

Once the inspection is complete, you can expect to wait several weeks before you receive the formal approval certificate in the mail. That certificate is what you need to continue with the process of officially registering your converted electric vehicle.

REGISTERING FOR A NEW TAG

You can actually register for your new vehicle tag as soon as your title change been changed to show you now have an electric car. To do this, you will want to complete an application for a new tag. Specifically, you will be applying for an alternative fuel vehicle tag.
